Cardinal Coaching Staff

CHARLEY WINNER, Head Coach

What does a head coach do after a 9-4-1 season turns turtle and becomes 4-9-1?

That's the question facing Charley Winner as he begins his fifth season at the helm of the Football Cardinals, a season which will give him the longest consecutive tenure of any coach in Big Red history.

And he answers it this way, "For 1970, we must try to forget what went before. We must dedicate ourselves to winning and to all the things that produce a winning team. We cannot control what happened a year ago, but we can control what we do this year. We feel we will have a solid football team in 1970. We shall dedicate ourselves to making it a winning team."

WINNER

The 46-year-old head coach, who celebrated his annual pair of birthdays shortly before training camp began, has a 27-25-4 record for four Cardinal seasons. The Big Red was 8-5-1 in his first campaign, then 6-7-1, 9-4-1 and 4-9-1 in successive seasons.

Winner's pair of birthdays take place on July 2 and 3, which the coach explains this way, "My birth certificate says July 3, but my mother always said I was born on July 2, so I celebrate both of them."

A native of Somerville, N. J., not far from New York City, Winner was a fine high school halfback but too small for major college notice. With the help of a high school friend who had enrolled there, Winner was offered a scholarship at Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau, Mo. The head coach at Cape was E. R. (Abe) Stuber, now player personnel director for the Cardinals.

Winner made the freshman squad in 1941, but was drafted into the Army in the spring of 1942. He became a radio operator and gunner in the Air Force, flew 17 missions over Germany and was shot down in the spring of 1945, spending six weeks in a prisoner of war camp before the war ended.

Returning to his interrupted education, Winner enrolled at Washington University in St. Louis, where the head football coach was Weeb Ewbank. The young halfback earned a pair of football letters and three in track as a sprinter and broad jumper. He also courted the coach's daughter, Nancy, and they were married in 1950.

Winner earned a B.S. degree in 1949 and remained at Washington University for the 1949 football season, serving as an assistant coach and also earning a master's degree in education.

Moving to Cleveland, Winner became an assistant coach under Lou Saban at Case Tech, and also helped scout for the Browns. In 1954, when Ewbank moved to Baltimore as head coach of the Colts, Winner went along. He started as end coach, then worked with the linebackers and eventually took over the entire defense, a task he had when the Colts won NFL titles in 1958 and 1959. Ewbank left Baltimore for the New York Jets in 1963, Don Shula became head coach and Winner stayed with Shula for three seasons as the Colts won the Western Division crown in 1964 and tied for it in 1965.

"I decided to stay at Baltimore," he recalled, "because I felt it was time to strike out on my own, rather than continue to be associated with Weeb, even though he and I had a fine working relationship."

Winner came to the Cardinals early in 1966. He and Nancy live in a suburb of St. Louis and are the parents of two daughters, 18-year-old Cinda, a college freshman this year, and 13-year-old Lisa. Winner is an avid fisherman when he finds the time, and also is a good amateur gardener and chef.

DRULIS

VORIS

CHUCK DRULIS, Assistant Coach

Senior member of the Cardinal coaching staff, Chuck Drulis is in his 20th year of coaching in 1970, his 15th with the Cardinals, where he has defensive responsibility.

A native of Girardville, Pa., Drulis won all-East honors at Temple University, then joined the Chicago Bears in 1942. As a rookie, he played guard for the 11-0 Bears, last team to go through an NFL season without a loss, though they bowed to the Redskins in the title game.

Drulis then served in the Army during World War II, but returned to play with the Bears in 1945-48, being named all-pro the last two years.

As a coach, Drulis began with the Green Bay Packers in 1951. He moved to Philadelphia in 1954 and joined the Cardinals under Ray Richards in 1956, remaining as Frank (Pop) Ivy, Wally Lemm and Winner became head coaches. Drulis is commonly credited with devising the safety blitz, first used by the Big Red in 1960.

Drulis and his wife, Dale, are St. Louis residents and are the parents of two sons, Chuck, Jr., and Kerry, the latter a medical student at Washington University. Mrs. Drulis, a noted artist, designed and executed the facade at the Professional Football Hall of Fame as one of her many major commissions.

BOB (RED) MILLER, Assistant Coach

Hard-working, volatile Red Miller works with top-flight offensive line in his fifth season with the Cardinals.

Born in Macomb, Ill., Miller was a star guard at Western Illinois, being named Most Valuable Player for three straight seasons. He graduated in 1950 and began coaching on the high school level at Astoria and Canton, Ill., while earning a master's degree in education.

Like Charley Winner, Miller also worked under Lou Saban, coaching with Saban at Western Illinois in 1957. Saban became head coach at Boston in 1960 and Miller went along, and they went to Buffalo together in 1962. Miller then was an assistant coach at Denver in 1964 and 1965 before coming to the Cardinals.

Miller and his wife, Nancy, live in St. Louis with their two children, Stephen, 15, and Lana, 12.

DICK VORIS, Assistant Coach

Long-time football man Dick Voris, starting his third season with the Cardinals, has the primary responsibility of working with the defensive line.

Voris was an outstanding center and linebacker in his college days at Hartnell (Calif.) J.C. and San Jose State, graduating in 1949. He returned to Hartnell in 1952 as head coach and rolled up 21 straight victories, capped by a Junior Rose Bowl appearance.

Turning to the professional ranks, Voris joined the Los Angeles Rams staff in 1954, then became part of the U. S. Military Academy staff under Earl Blaik the following season. He became head coach at the University of Virginia in 1958 and, in 1961, joined one of his Army staff-mates, Vince Lombardi, at Green Bay. Voris moved to the San Francisco 49ers two years later and worked with the defense until coming to St. Louis.

Voris, an ardent fisherman, and his wife, Idelle, live in St. Louis. They have two children, Susan, 21, and Ronald, 19, who is a football player at the University of Wyoming.

KEN SHIPP, Assistant Coach

The dual responsibilities of working with pass receivers and handling game scouting chores belong to Ken Shipp, veteran football coach now in his third Cardinal season.

Shipp, a native of Tennessee, was a halfback at Middle Tennessee State College and remained to join the staff after graduating in 1950. He coached at Trinity (Tex.) University from 1953 through 57, then entered professional football with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian League.

He returned to the United States in 1961, joining the staff at Tulsa. He moved to South Carolina in 1963 and accompanied Charley Tate to Miami the following year. Shipp came to the Cardinals in 1968.

LEEMAN BENNETT, Assistant Coach

Making his professional debut after five years of collegiate coaching is Leeman Bennett, who will work with Cardinal offensive backs.

Bennett, a native of Paducah, Ky., was a standout quarterback and defensive back at the University of Kentucky while Blanton Collier was head coach. After graduating in 1960, he spent two years as a graduate assistant, then entered the Army.

Turning to full-time coaching in 1965, Bennett joined the Kentucky staff under Charlie Bradshaw. He moved to the University of Pittsburgh in 1966, then became part of the staff at Cincinnati, where he worked with Greg Cook and a backfield that led the nation in passing and was eighth in total offense. He then shifted to the U. S. Naval Academy where he was offensive coach under former Cardinal assistant Rick Forzano.

Bennett and his wife, Pat, have two sons, Paul, 4, and Greg, 1.

KEN BLUE, Assistant Coach

Long-time football man Ken Blue was head coach at the University of Pacific for less than a month this spring before he came to the Cardinal staff, where he will work with linebackers.

STUBER

WEST

Blue had been a defensive coach for Pacific for two seasons and moved up when Doug Scovil left to join the San Francisco 49ers.

A native of San Francisco, Blue was a linebacker at San Francisco and San Jose State, then coached on the high school level for five seasons, earning a master's degree at Stanford along the way. He became head coach at Hartnell J.C. in 1953 and joined the staff at New Mexico in 1959 as defensive backfield coach.

Blue and his wife, Elizabeth, have three children, Robert, 17, Lizann, 15, and Kathy, 5.

EMMETT (ABE) STUBER, Personnel Director

The search for players is a monumental part of professional football, and Abe Stuber has more than 40 years of service in all phases of the game, including the recruitment of a young halfback from New Jersey named Charley Winner to play for Stuber's Southeast Missouri State College team in 1941.

Stuber is a native of Missouri and was a star quarterback at the University of Missouri in 1924-26, playing alongside long-time Mizzou coach and athletic director Don Faurot in the backfield.

Stuber became head coach at Southeast Missouri in 1930 and turned out a flock of conference champions in football, basketball and track for 17 years. He became head coach at Iowa State in 1947 and was there for seven seasons, moving to Washington State in 1954. He joined the Philadelphia Eagles in 1956 and Green Bay the following season.

He joined the Cardinals in 1958, was out of football in 1959 and back with the Cardinals in 1960, with talent his primary assignment. He and his wife, Dorothy, live in Cape Girardeau, Mo., and have four grandchildren, two each by their son, Dick, and their daughter, Mrs. Martha Griffith.

GEORGE BOONE, Assistant Personnel Director

Serving his third season and covering the thousands of miles necessary to look for new talent is George Boone, whose experience in both coaching and scouting makes him especially valuable.

A native of Kentucky, Boone was a star lineman at the University of Kentucky, and served the Wildcats for six additional seasons as an assistant coach. He became an area scout for CEPO — a seven-team group of NFL clubs that pool talent information — in 1966 and came to the Big Red in 1968.

Boone and his wife, Dedee, are the parents of five children, Dickie, 9, Georgia, 8, Gay, 7, Sally, 2, and Tina, 1.

STAN WEST, Personnel Scout

A star NFL lineman for eight seasons, Stan West is a full-time personnel scout in the Big Red search for young and talented players.

ROCKWELL

SIMMONS

West, a native of Oklahoma, was an all-American at Oklahoma, then played with the Rams, Giants and Cardinals. He was a coach with the Minnesota Vikings from 1960 through 1962, was out of football for two years and joined the Big Red in 1965.

He lives in Norman, Okla., with his wife, Mary Frances, and their two sons, Tom, 17, and Ted, 13.

JACK ROCKWELL, Trainer

As the Cardinals start their second decade in St. Louis, Jack Rockwell starts his second decade as the Big Red trainer, keeping the players in top shape and ministering to the varied injuries that occur.

Rockwell is a native of Seattle and originally enrolled at the University of Kansas. After service in World War II, he finished up at the University of Colorado, also earning a master's degree. He served as head trainer at Colorado for seven years, including a trip to Russia with a U. S. basketball team. He also had served as trainer for the Bremerton (Wash.) minor league baseball team and as a therapist for the Washington State Rehabilitation Center.

Additionally, Rockwell is executive secretary of the National Athletic Trainers Assn. He and his wife, Jean, live in St. Louis with their sons, Kerry, 19, a sophomore at Southern Methodist University, and Kevin, 12.

JOHN OMOHUNDRO, Assistant Trainer

Moving into his fourth season of helping with the multitude of tasks associated with a training room, John Omohundro has proved a valuable asset to the Cardinals' physical programs. A native of Salt Lake City, Omohundro earned a degree in physical education from the University of Wyoming and worked as assistant trainer there and at the College of Southern Utah before joining the Cardinals. He is single.

BILL SIMMONS, Equipment Manager

It's amazing how much gear is required to outfit a football team, and Bill Simmons is entering his fifth season of sorting, repairing, handling and just generally keeping track of all of it.

Simmons is a native of Kansas City who earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Northeast Missouri State College around tours of duty in both World War II and the Korean War. He joined the Cardinals after four years as a teacher at Ferguson Junior High.

The tobacco-chewing Simmons and his wife, Katie, live in St. Louis. They have five children, Dan, 24, Tim, 21, Sue, 17, Kathy, 16, and Pat 14.

BRUMM, DONALD DWAIN — Defensive End

B-10/4/41 6-4 245 Purdue Eighth Year

Knee injury sidelined rugged pass rusher most of season, hurt defensive line. Hard-charging lineman has played both ends with equal effectiveness, owns two NFL touchdowns with recovered fumbles (1965, 1968). Star Purdue tackle was first-round Cardinal draft choice, won team Rookie-of-Year award. Played in Pro Bowl, 1969. Married (wife, Donna), two children, lives in St. Louis.

COLLINS, CHARLES — Wide Receiver

B-9/15/47 5-8 168 Kansas State First Year

Twelfth-round draft choice is 9.4 sprinter, won Big 8 outdoor 100-yard dash honors as junior. Caught 21 passes for 422 yards, 4 touchdowns as senior, played in Blue-Grey game and was captain of Blue. Born in Atlanta, was standout at Cameron (Okla.) J.C. Single.

DAANEN, JERRY — Wide Receiver

B-12/15/44 6-0 190 Miami (Fla.) Third Year

Speedy hustler with fine hands has seen limited action as backup for wide receivers, but excels on special teams and has been ready to step in when needed. Native of DePere, Wis., was eighth-round draft choice, caught 11 passes against LSU in sophomore college year to set Miami record. Married (wife, Kaye), one child. Pronounces his name DAY-nen.

EMERSON, VERNON E. — Offensive Tackle

B-9/2/45 6-5 260 Minnesota (Duluth) Second Year

Strong tackle prospect missed training camp because of Army duty, saw limited action during season. Twelfth-round draft choice from small school was impressive in 1968 camp, spent season on reserve squad. Could mature into fine NFL lineman. Born in Anoka, Minn., earned four college grid letters, all-conference honors. Married (wife, Carol), one child.

FARR, MILLER — Defensive Back

B-4/8/43 6-1 190 Wichita State Sixth Year

One of top corner backs in AFL history came to Big Red in off-season trade (Farr and Pete Beathard for Charley Johnson, Bob Atkins). Was all-AFL in 1967, 68, teamed with Larry Wilson in combined all-pro team latter year. Led AFL in interceptions in 1967, matched NFL mark with three touchdown returns that season and has five for career. Was Denver's top draft choice but was cut by Broncos and went to San Diego, then to Houston in 1967 deal. Native of Texas will face two relatives this year — brother Mel of Detroit, cousin Jerry Levias of Houston. Married (wife, Mary), one child.

FOWLER, GARY WAYNE — Running Back-Punter

B-1/23/48 6-0 190 California First Year

Sixteenth-round draft choice led Golden Bears in rushing, was third in conference with 765 yards in 157 carries as senior. Also ranked 16th among collegiate punters with 41.1 average. Played defense in East-West game, switched to offense in Hula Bowl and scored two touchdowns. Hard-nosed runner is rated smart, heady performer. Single.

GILLIAM, JOHN RALLY — Wide Receiver

B-8/7/45 6-1 195 South Carolina State Fourth Year

Swift stardom came to fleet receiver who joined Big Red in off-season trade, took over top flanker job and caught 52 passes for 997 yards, 9 touchdowns. Yardage was fourth-best one-season mark in team history. Sprinter also had 30.8-yard average with 11 kickoff returns, including 100-yarder for TD at Green Bay. Native of Greenwood, S. C., was Saints' second-round draft choice in 1967, ran back first kickoff of their first game 94 yards for score. Earned four football, three track letters in college. Married (wife, Fannie), one child, lives in Atlanta.

GOODE, IRVIN L. — Guard

B-10/12/40 6-5 255 Kentucky Ninth Year

Bulwark of offensive line has been standout at guard, tackle and center during career. Leads sweeps in excellent fashion, also is top-flight pass-protection blocker. Joined Big Red as first-round draft choice, won team Rookie-of-the-Year honors as tackle. Moved to guard in second season, has filled in as center. Played in Pro Bowl, 1965, 1968. Native of Newport, Ky., was unanimous all-American in college. Pronounces his name GOOD-y.

GRAY, KEN — Guard

B-3/10/36 6-2 250 Howard Payne Thirteenth Year

Team's senior man is only veteran of Chicago era, has long been considered one of NFL's top guards. Hard-working lineman displays plenty of hustle, gets out in front well on sweeps, is rugged on pass protection. Originally a sixth-round draft choice by Packers, joined Cardinals as free agent before 1958 season. Played in Pro Bowl 1962, 1964-5, 1967-8. College grid and track star is member of NAIA Hall of Fame. Married (wife, Shirley), three children, lives in Llano, Tex.

GROTH, RAY ADRAIN — Wide Receiver-Defensive Back

B-7/27/47 5-11 185 Utah First Year

Fourteenth-round draft choice was college quarterback, but will be tested as safety or wide receiver with Cardinals. Was all-WAC last two seasons, served as team captain in senior year, is third of his family to quarterback at Utah. Native of Idaho Falls, Idaho, was all-America prep player. Married (wife, Deidra). Pronounces his name GROWTH.

HARRIS, ERIC — Defensive Back

B-7/5/48 6-0 175 Colorado First Year

WILSON, LARRY FRANK — Defensive Back

B-3/24/38 6-0 195 Utah Eleventh Year

Perennial all-pro choice is regarded as finest weak safety in NFL, probably best in professional history. Has been named to Pro Bowl last five seasons, seven of last eight, missing only 1965. Has been co-captain, is spirited leader, outstanding tackler, always seems to be around the ball. Owns all Big Red career marks for interceptions, return yardage, touchdowns, longest return. Led NFL in interceptions in 1966, tied NFL record by stealing passes in seven straight games. Seventh-round draft choice came with offensive credentials, moved to defensive corner before finding permanent niche at safety. Has twice been named team Most Valuable Player (1966, 68). Native of Rigby, Idaho, was prep star there, fine college back. Married (wife, Dee Ann), three children, lives in St. Louis.

1969 GAME

Nov. 16 at Detroit (51,749) — Stubborn Lion defense stifled Big Red offense in crucial spots. Cardinals put together two lengthy marches, but were unable to score as Jim Bakken's field goal went wide and Charley Johnson's pass was intercepted at the goal line. Roland paced Big Red rushers with 46 yards. Johnson hit 13 of 30 for 167, with Smith and Gilliam nabbing five apiece.

LAST MEETING

Sept. 16, 1968 at St. Louis (49,757) — Rugged Los Angeles defense dumped Jim Hart five times and held Big Red to only 75 yards rushing. Cardinals stayed close through first half, but 94-yard return of second-half kickoff gave Rams imposing 17-3 lead. Rams gained fewer yards than Big Red, but Cardinals could not mount sustained drive.
